Dear Pre-Health Students,

Due to the University’s changes to campus operations in response to COVID-19, the Pre-Health Advising Office will cease all face-to-face and group advising meetings and activities beginning Monday, March 16. However, most pre-health advising services will still be available to assist you. Please note the following changes to normal procedures, until further notice:

Questions about your pre-health track: Students receiving pre-health advising from their academic advisors in CLAS, CHHS, and UCOL should follow contact instructions provided by their advisors. Students working directly with the Pre-Health Advising Office should email questions to prehealth@uncc.edu. Emails will be read and responded to during normal business hours.

Appointment requests: Students receiving pre-health advising from their academic advisors in CLAS, CHHS, and UCOL should follow instructions provided by their advisors. Students working directly with the Pre-Health Advising Office and who have reached the benchmarks for individual advising appointments should email prehealth@uncc.edu with the following information: student id#, brief description of the topics you would like to discuss, and a list of days/times when you are available from 8:30-12:30 M-Th. A remote-access appointment will be scheduled. The appointment confirmation email will contain instructions for using a University-approved web conferencing tool. Please note that the schedule typically fills several days to a week in advance, so plan ahead.

Review of personal statements and other application narratives: Students who are applying this spring/summer may send their essays, experience descriptions, and other application narratives as Word docs to prehealth@uncc.edu for content review. Be sure to include your student id# and the essay prompt. Allow up to 14 days for return of comments.